

Apposite Capital Wins the “Private equity investor of the year” Award

London, UK – 11 June 2015. Apposite Capital, the private equity firm specialising in healthcare, was awarded the “private equity investor of the year” award for healthcare investments of less than £50 million at the HealthInvestor awards ceremony held on 10 June 2015 at the Grosvenor House Hotel, London. Organised by HealthInvestor magazine, the awards acknowledge excellence and innovation demonstrated by leading healthcare professionals and organisations in the UK.

Created in 2006, Apposite has been successful in growing high quality healthcare businesses to leaders in their markets. Apposite has experienced a number of successful exits in its portfolio over the last 12 months, generating up to $430 million in proceeds. Apposite’s recent exits included: UK specialist fostercare provider By the Bridge, medical technology company Ulthera and biopharmaceutical companies Convergence Pharmaceuticals and Ambit Biosciences.

Sam Gray, Partner, who collected the award, commented: “We are very pleased with the progress and achievements that we have made over the last 12 months. We believe our sector specialism, global perspective and outstanding network within the healthcare industry provide us significant advantages in sourcing attractive opportunities and growing the value of our portfolio companies. Healthcare continues to be an attractive area and we look forward to continuing to grow emerging businesses into market leaders.”
