

Apposite Capital backed Riverdale Healthcare adds Second Hub with the Acquisition of Devonshire House in Cambridge

London, UK – 6th April 2021. Apposite Capital, the healthcare specialist private equity investor, today announced that its dentistry platform, Riverdale Healthcare, has completed the acquisition of Devonshire House, creating a second geographic hub centred in Cambridge to complement Riverdale's first hub in the North East where it operates 25 dental practices.

Devonshire House is a well-established and regarded dental group offering general and highly specialist dental treatments including cosmetic and restorative dentistry. Devonshire House consists of two practices, 12 surgeries and 14 dentists and supports over c.200 local referring practices. Advanced techniques and equipment allow the team at Devonshire House to be at the forefront of clinical dentistry using the latest technologies to provide the highest levels of care. The group also prides itself on providing ongoing training programmes to postgraduates and fellow dental practitioners.

In addition, Devonshire House has its own onsite dental laboratory fully equipped for digital dentistry with design, milling and 3D printing capabilities. The lab offers a full service supporting implant dentistry from provisional design, through scanning and surgical guides, to finished units and sophisticated full arch bridges.

Emma Barnes, CEO of Riverdale Healthcare, announced, "We are thrilled to have Devonshire House recognise the complementarity of our ethos and values with their own. This is a really exciting acquisition which further expands our geographical footprint to a region where we will seek to add more practices to the group."
